Austin High School
Austin, Minnesota

Alma Mater

Austin's constant effort to keep up with the ever widening field of education reached an all time high this year with the construction of two new buildings.

One of these is a vocational school in which students may prepare themselves to enter any one of numerous professions and the other a heating plant, which provides for the present building plus the vocational plant.

Improvements are also very noticeable in the "old" building as the addition of several new sets of lockers have advanced us a little farther on our way to the time when each student will have his own full length locker.

The New Look

After Hours

After the hustle and bustle of a busy school day and the many activities connected with it, Austin students go out to find their own relaxation or perhaps do some type of odd job to earn money for those new clothes. Interests are as many and varied as the students themselves as some go to the Shaw Gym, others to play records, while some review the day's activities over a coke.

Perhaps an activity common to all is that of enjoying the good times had outdoors. Even the cold weather doesn't stop the heartier students from spending a snowy evening tobogganing or skating. And for those who like their exercise in smaller doses there's always the side walk to shovel.

I Crown Thee

With these words Dale Bartley, student council president, proclaimed Doris Nelson the Homecoming Queen for 1954.

This was the climax to an impressive ceremony, which centered around Doris and her four attendants.

Having made their entrance and taken their places, the royalty was paid homage by the high school chorus and soloist Joan Madison.

In a closing gesture each of the court was presented with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums, bringing a perfect ending to another successful coronation.

Homecoming Highlights

Out of the busy preparations centering around AHS in late September, the spirit of 1953 Homecoming was born. Evidences of its prescence could be seen at the beginning of Homecoming festivities when AHS students held a lively pepfest at the athletic field and later, when flames from the traditional bonfire leaped into a black fall sky.

On the second day of festivities, colorful floats, lively marching units and rousing band music made up the Homecoming parade. Marching through the business section of Austin, students proclaimed with carefully prepared floats, their aim to defeat the Owatonna Indians.

Coronation

"We will guard thy name
And adore thy fame.
Thou shalt be forever dear."

As the Senior chorus sang these words, they seemed to voice the spirit shared by all AHS students, not only for the new queen, but for all that went into Homecoming 1953. The hilarious side of the annual festivities was dramatized by G.A.A. members in their Dragnet skit. The disappointment of a Homecoming game lost to Owatonna was mostly forgotten as AHS students danced to the music of Rollo Sissel after the game.

A Tale of Time

Once upon a time there were enrolled in Austin High School, 2,400 people of assorted looks, backgrounds, and personalities. Every day these people came to classes in the building called Central for the purpose of learning from books and instructors; out of class, however, the learning did not stop. Even the minutes and seconds spent out of classes in the corridors, cafeteria, auditorium, and many other areas of the school, were full of learning; of friendship; of laughter; and of life in general.

Life at school was busy. One had only to look at the throngs of hurrying students between classes or the clatter and rattle of silverware and dishes in the cafeteria competing with chattering lunchers.

A familiar sight around AHS was couples walking to class together, chatting together near lockers, or attending school activities together. Announcing the end of a busy day, the banging of locker doors and shouted good-byes made a suitable end to a day in Austin High School.

Best Foot Forward

Through many student organizations Austin High School was presented to its public. Ushers at public school functions greeted each visitor with courtesy and friendliness, showing one of the best examples of good representation of our school. The hard working band playing for pep fests and the home games gave the public a demonstration of the results of capable instructors and talented students. Not only a great percentage of AHS students but merchants and other Austin citizens enjoyed written accounts of AHS life through the two school publications, the Sentinel and the Austinian.

When School Is Done

What'll we do to liven this place up? The answer to that familiar question is solved by AHS'ers in many ways. The old standby, the movies, remains the top favorite for dates and stag alike. Shops that can "dish out a mean sundae and cool juke box" claim the time and money of many teen-agers.

Sometimes plans for a pleasant evening can go astray by unforeseen emergencies, such as a blowout, an empty gas tank or a treacherous mudhole. What car owner has not at one time or another been able to blame a balky vehicle for his late arrival?

Time: Any time after 3:08.

Subject of Investigation: What do AHS students do after the doors of Central close for the day?

Net result of investigation: Large percent of students spend time in community organizations.

Specific organizations: Rural students worked for clearer thinking, greater loyalty, larger service and better living for their home, community and country in 4-H clubs all over Mower County. Projects, contests, exhibits and recreation such as square dances and tours kept club members busy full-filling the aims of their 4-H pledge.

Attracting many students interested in bettering their community and world, as well as sharing group activities, the youth branches of the YMCA and YWCA sponsored projects of both work and play. Every senior at least considered participating in the annual Easter Y trip to New York and Washington D. C. A square dance, a mixer with the theme, "Gay Paree", and a formal dance were the main co-ed activities sponsored by the Y-Teens and Hi-Y.

Learning 'n Leisure

Red Wing, Winona, Kansas City, New York—these are just a few of the places where AHS students traveled to attend conventions.

Journalism students journeyed to Red Wing on October 7 to attend the Big 9 Journalism Clinic. Austinian members were given an analysis of the Big 9 yearbooks while the Sentinel staff learned how to put more life into the school paper.

Highlighting the National FFA Convention in Kansas City was a speech by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The main speaker at the Big 9 Student Council Convention in Winona was Governor C. Elmer Anderson, who spoke on student responsibilities. Among other things, the delegates had group discussions related to gaining better student government.

During Easter vacation a number of high school and junior college students traveled to New York and Washington D. C. on the annual Y Seminar trip. The delegates visited such places of interest as the UN Building, the White House, and Washington Memorial. They also had a chance to see a Broadway show, tour sections of New York, and meet well-known people of various professions.

One to Get Ready

"In spring a young man's fancy turns to that which the girls have been thinking of all year." In Austin High School this quotation could apply to the traditional Prom.

Warmer days encouraged the thoughts of juniors and seniors to wander from geometry and history to corsages and formals. Standing in front of downtown store windows, girls compared prices and opinions on the newest spring formals. Meanwhile, the boys, after each had asked a girl and had received her consent to go with him, were busy arranging for the use of the family car and gathering together that all-important stuff—money.

As Prom night approached, the busy bustle of preparation was felt in many homes. Cleaning the car and making sure his best suit was pressed filled the thoughts of many AHS boys, while many a girl found alterations were needed on either her dress or her figure. Having previously checked and double checked for neat appearance, AHS Promers were ready to meet their Prom of 1953.

Two For The Prom

Time: May 27

Place: Terp Ballroom of Austin

Event: Prom 1953

Thus announced, the festivities of Prom night can be presented as a play, with a large cast consisting of the classes of 1953 and 1954.

Act I takes place before the Prom and covers various pre-Prom parties. As the curtain rises we find the boy calling for his date and presenting her with a corsage to complement her formal. In turn, a boutonniere adds a finishing touch to his appearance. Act II shows a couple sharing food and laughter at one of the many supper parties which range from a buffet supper in someone's kitchen to a formal dinner party in a local restaurant. Each guest looks, feels and acts his best, and consequently a good time is had by all. Soon Act III begins and it is time to leave for the dance. Thus, around eight o'clock the doors of the Terp Ballroom open to admit the first couple to an eagerly anticipated evening of fun and friendship.

The music of Jules Herman and his orchestra accompanied Promers to fast and slow dances and provided accent with a couple of breathtaking bunny hops. Throughout the dancing and during the grand march, the lovely maze of varied formals made the dance floor resemble a mass of moving color. As twelve o'clock approached, Prom-goers gathered on the dance floor for one last whirl.

From the Terp many went to the Country Club for two hours more of dancing. Others met at the Paramount Theater for a special movie. A host of parties rounded out the night's festivities as Prom-goers met in various homes to eat and to discuss a busy evening of activities. Formals and suits were exchanged for jeans and sloppy shirts so that the fear of spilling or tearing could be forgotten. Todd Park was the scene of a picnic breakfast complete with breakfast rolls, watermelon and chocolate cake. Morning finally brought a reluctant end to Prom Night 1953.

Time Out!

As clocks all over the school clicked to 10:08, AHS students were released from classes for 45 minutes to attend assemblies. Throughout the year that bell called students to speeches, to laugh at lively pep skits, to sing together or to watch dramatic presentations.

At the first assembly, some "loco" talent was introduced—the Boy's Five Mile Corner Ten Minus Two. In following assemblies, professional performers like the Lunds with a table tennis exhibition and the Singing Marines with popular and semi-classical songs appeared. On the local scene, pep skits included the jug band and the noisy Macal-ester story tellers.

"This morning we are proud to present . . ." These are the familiar words usually heard at the opening of a junior high assembly. Entertainment was provided for the junior high by such assemblies as "The Indigoes" with their "Dutch Treat" of music, dances, and costumes from their native land of Holland. "The Cole Marionettes" with their puppet show added a bit of color to the junior high program. Man's best friends—dogs—were in the spotlight in the February assembly, "Canine Review."

Mixer Magic

Ever wonder what life looks like to a post?

Take one of the pillars in our cafeteria for example. Surely the throngs of students bound for lunch who pass it every day are familiar enough, but what does our friend think when on an occasional afternoon he is decked out in crepe paper and balloons to await the students who gather to dance after a game?

Our friend literally burst his balloon buttons with excitement at the Carnival held by the Dirk and Bauble Club after the Albert Lea football game. Between dances boys and girls gathered at the booths where candy and tricks were sold. "Maud the Mystic" sent away each visitor to her fortune-telling booth with a hopeful gleam in his eye.

The Snow Ball held by the FHA carried out a winter theme to the enjoyment of dancers after the Winona basketball game.

Throughout the year, as mixers were held to celebrate a victory or to pep up spirits after a loss in our athletic events, our friend the pillar looked upon AHS students as they enjoyed the music of a popular dance band or got acquainted with students from the visiting town.

Music, music, music

Bobby Thomsen Band

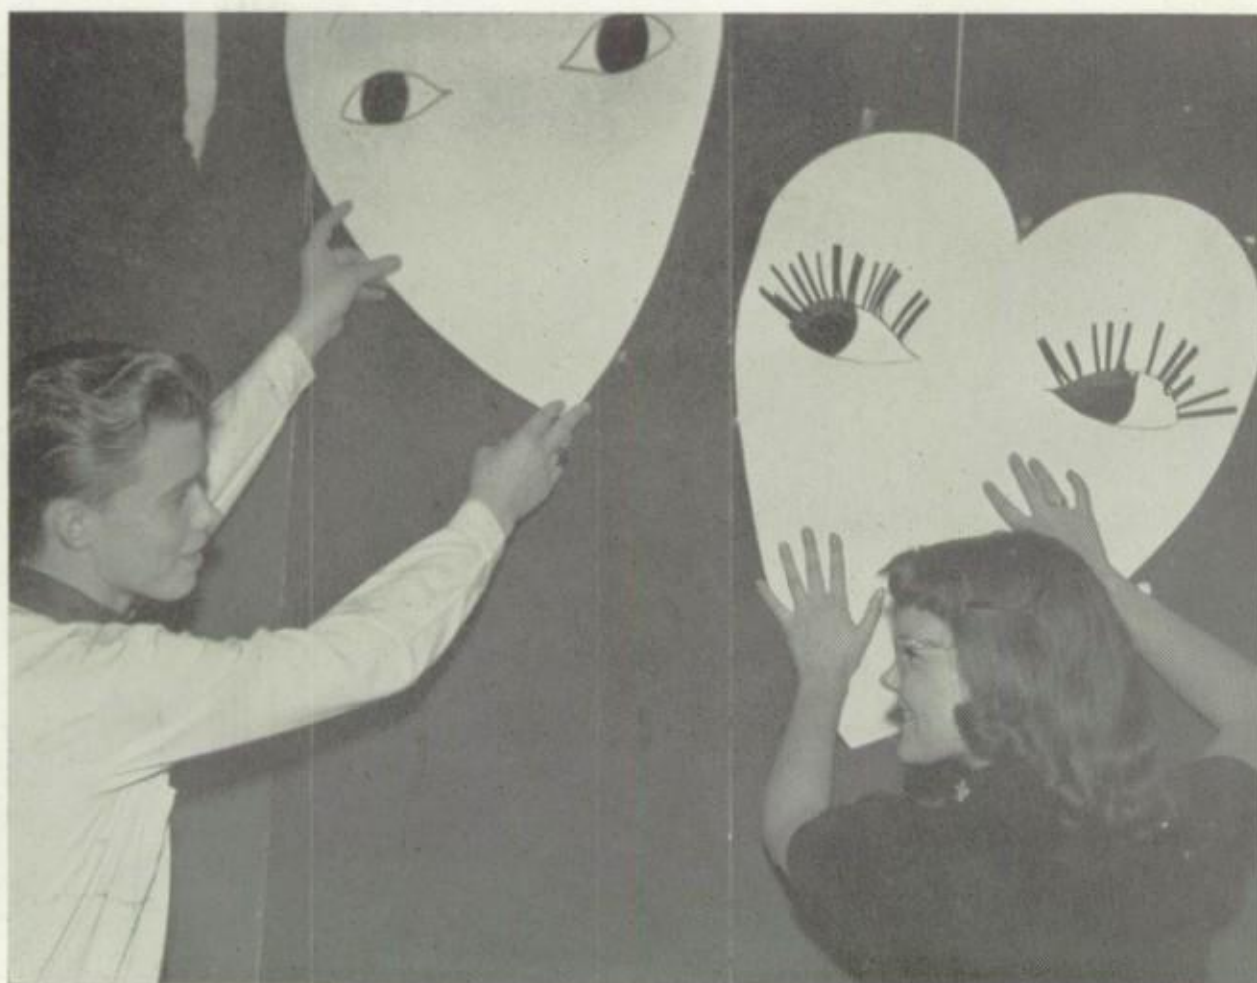

King of My Heart

Will you go to the mixer with me Friday night? Seemingly there's nothing different about this statement. However, when asked around February 10, 11, or 12, it meant a girl was doing the asking and the paying in accordance with WPA week rules.

Climaxing three days of reversed dating procedure with the girls footing the bill, the WPA mixer after the Rochester game was named by all as one of the best of the year.

Amid red and white hearts and decorations, dancers enjoyed Bobby Thomsen's band at its best.

Introducing what they hoped would be an annual event, the Senior Friendship Club sponsored the election of a senior boy to reign over WPA week as King of Hearts. Highlighting the WPA mixer was the coronation of King Frank Bucklin.

In the Mood

Chattering girls in front of a mirror—boys huddled together hashing out the game's most spectacular play—a swish of taffetized skirts—the click of high heels on rumpus room floors—a dreamy waltz record snatched off in favor of "Hot Toddy"—this is party time atmosphere created by AHS guys and gals.

Typical of these parties is the traditional gathering after a play performance, always a vital part of the night when the curtain goes up and players forget themselves to become for a brief time, old New England farmers, scolding women, or tragic Greek characters. Relieved laughter rings out as lines are re-said, missed cues lamented and the spirit of "The play's the thing!" reigns.

Even the atmosphere of an informal pre-game party with its lushburgers and jeans-clad girls in spoolies is important.

Enchanted Evenings

In spite of the fuss and feathers of getting ready for "dress-up parties" the fun of a sophisticated affair creates an atmosphere of sparkle and gaiety.

While on other occasions, parties in homes after formal dances, plays or concerts gave tired girls a chance to slip off pinching shoes, and boys the opportunity to remove that irksome tie.

Gaining Experience

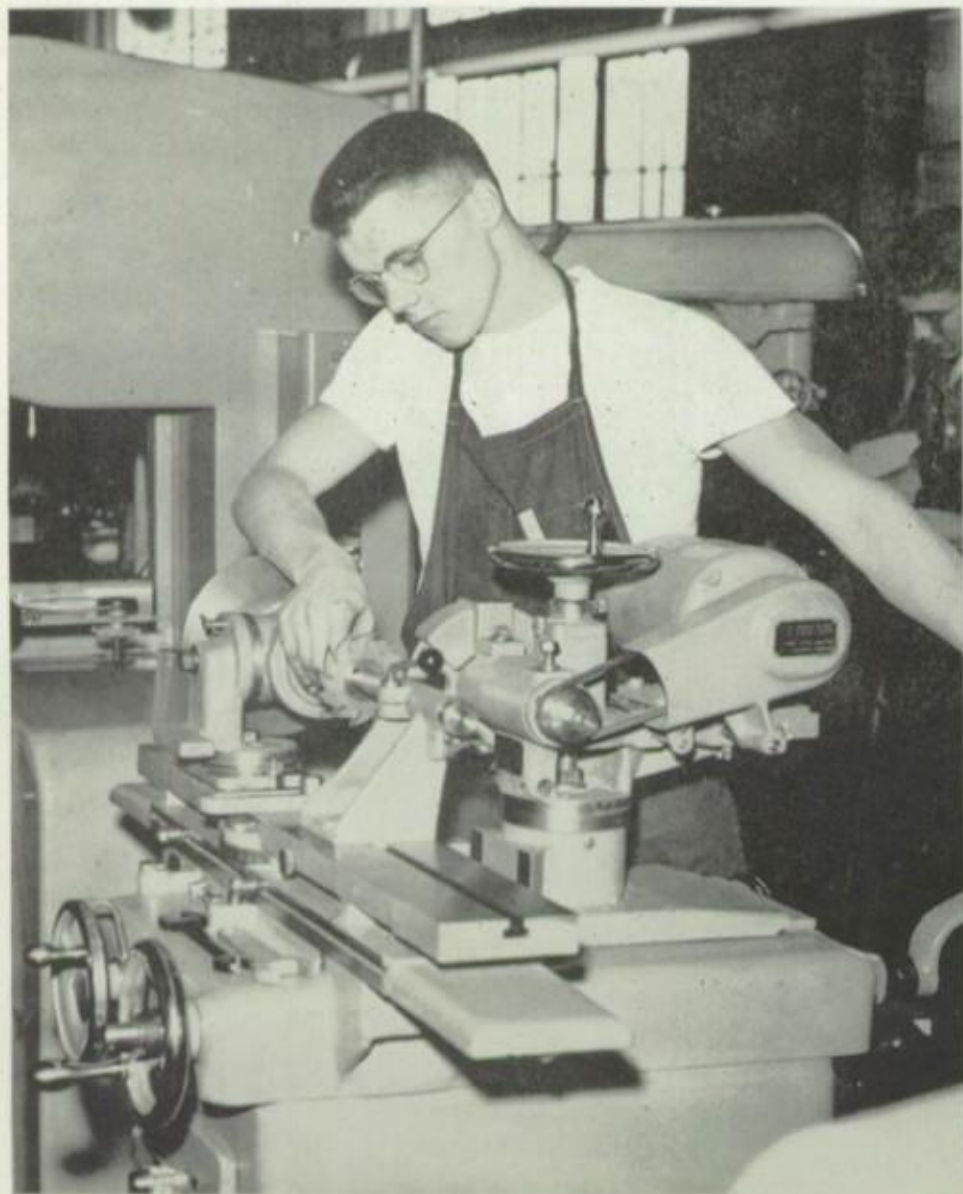

Knock! Knock! Who's there? Opportunity. Yes, students in AHS have only to open this door of opportunity to receive an education that will assist them in their future work. Behind some doors there are shops where students learn how to make and repair radios, television sets, and other electrical appliances. Other doors, when opened, give way to machines on which tools are made. Opportunities are also offered in auto mechanics for those who like to see how cars operate. For those with an artistic touch, there is painting and decorating where color schemes, selections of wood, and wall papering are taught. Girls can take advantage of these educational facilities in such classes as hairdressing and beauty culture. Here, after a certain number of hours in practice, girls can take the state examination which entitles them to a license in cosmetology. Yes, behind the doors of AHS lie opportunities beyond compare.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

is for Drama

The star-studded stage of Austin High filled with student dramatists presented many productions throughout the school year.

Under Miss Cecily Spaulding's direction, January Thaw was the fall play offering. This comedy featured a conflict between two families of different backgrounds. The audience sympathized with Peg Schulze and Dave Johnson, who sat down to a breakfast of corn flakes, topped with olives and molasses, while the well-fed Rockwood family, Bev Mellem and Bill Louck, looked on.

The Dirk and Bauble Club added to the fall drama roster by presenting two assembly plays. One of the plays, Nobody Sleeps, starred Ronnie Hagelund as Spike, the honest burglar, who was trapped in a house with four babbling women. In Heat Lightning Julie LaVine found herself in a lonely bus depot with two men—one a murderer. She mistook the murderer for a protector and tension mounted as the consequences became apparent.

One Word Alone, a Thespian presentation, followed its title exactly. A one word conversation was carried on between Tucky Neiswanger and Lynda Cook. Roughly Speaking was the other Thespian play.

The Greek tragedy, Medea, by Euripides was the challenging spring play. Julie LaVine played the difficult role of Medea. Torn between jealousy and hatred for her husband, portrayed by Jack Warfel, Medea sought revenge for his unfaithfulness.

This year the Big Nine Speech Festival was held at Mankato. Divisions in which Austin was represented were one-act play, radio play, extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and discussion.

Budding Dramatists

Thespians presented a variety of plays this year, while training budding actors and actresses for the school stage.

Poor Jaquinat, the hen-pecked hero of In the Suds, was portrayed by David Johnson, while Jeanette, his wife, acted by Gwen Colescott, was bent on making her husband fulfill his household duties. Peg McLaughlin, as Emma, the career woman in Rich Man, Poor Man, was undecided as to whom she should marry.

Other activities during the year were a radio play for American Education Week, and providing entertainment in the form of a play for the Senior Friendship Club tea. Miss Lorna Bates is the adviser to the Thespians.

An impressive initiation welcomed new members into Dirk and Bauble in the fall. Capably serving as president was Margaret Richardson; other officers were Guy Elam, vice-president, and Carol Vilt, secretary. Miss Cecily Spaulding was the club's adviser.

As usual Dirk and Bauble's activities were many and varied throughout the year. Members of the club traveled to Minneapolis to attend the excellent stage production "John Brown's Body" starring Tyrone Power, Anne Baxter, and Raymond Massey.

Music Fills the Air

As the speech festival is to the dramatists, so too is the Big Nine Music Festival to the musicians; consequently, Austin musicians anxiously look forward to it. This year it was Austin's turn to welcome this annual event.

As early as February, the Austin music directors began making plans for the festival in May. This was not an easy task; for besides having to make all the arrangements for the festival, they had to practice with their music groups in preparation for their appearance.

Participating in the event were nine bands, nine orchestras, and six choruses. In all, 1600-1700 students were involved.

Music sessions lasted all day, climaxed by a parade of the Big Nine bands in the latter part of the afternoon.

Musicians Lauded

When the Big Nine music groups arrived for the festival, each school was given classrooms in which to change clothes and store instruments. In addition, warm-up rooms were available with chairs and music racks where musicians could practice.

Each group was allowed 30 minutes for performance on stage. The festival was not a competitive contest; instead judges wrote constructive criticisms and comments on the performance of each musical group.

Some of the numbers presented by Austin musical groups were selections from "The Nutcracker Suite" by the chorus, LeRoy Anderson's "Fiddle Faddle" by the orchestra, and "Orpheus Overture" by the band.

Earlier this year, 39 of Austin's best musicians traveled to Owatonna to participate in the select music festival.

Swing . . .

A familiar sound around Austin High School is the senior band under the direction of Mr. C. Vittorio Sperati.

Especially active in the fall, the band is well known for its marching at the half at football games and leading the traditional parade on Homecoming.

This fall all seventy-five band members attended the Minnesota-Pittsburgh football game where they performed at half-time ceremonies with thirty-seven other Minnesota high school bands. Besides having a chance to see a Minnesota football game, members had an opportunity to watch the University of Minnesota Band perform.

Basketball season also meant more enjoyable music furnished by the band. Old favorites such as "Red Rhythm Valley," "Hand Me Down My Swingin' Cane," and "Schnitzelbank," were again played this year.

Besides being an outstanding pep band, it is also a top concert band. At the winter concert, selections from "Kiss Me Kate" by Cole Porter and Offenbach's "Orpheus Overture" were played.

In the spring the senior and junior bands presented another concert. Climax of the concert was the march "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Band officers for the year were president, Gary Morem; vice president, Ron Hagelund; and secretary, Marilyn Wolf.

and Symphonies

The Symphony Orchestra presented two concerts during the year. The fall concert featured "Egmont Overture" which is a dramatic composition presenting a series of profound tone pictures.

In the spring the senior and junior orchestras presented a program together. The senior group played music keyed to a Lenten and spring theme. "Csardas" and "You'll Never Walk Alone" from "Carousel" were two featured numbers.

At the annual Christmas festival a select orchestra provided background music. A cello trio and string quartet played at the winter concert.

In February the entire 80 piece orchestra traveled to Minneapolis where they presented a program at a convention of Minnesota music directors and teachers. Some of the selections played were "Jesu Joy of Man's Desire," "Pizzicato Moderne," and "String-A-Ling." Melissa Dougherty played a violin solo, and the cello trio and string quartet played several selections. In the evening the orchestra attended a concert by the Boston Pops Orchestra.

The Symphony Orchestra is directed by Mr. Paul Heltne. Concert mistress is Melissa Dougherty, and Janet Hanson is first chair viola; Lenny and Larry Addington alternate at first chair cello position. Steve Gentle is piano and organ accompanist.

Fiddle Faddle

Hard work and few public appearances seem to be the motto of the junior orchestra. With the idea to teach grade school students to recognize themes in music, the junior orchestra played several selections at an assembly in February for the elementary children.

In March the orchestra combined with the senior orchestra in presenting their spring concert. Many numbers were presented, all of which were keyed to a Lenten theme.

Also during the year, the junior group appeared at assemblies for the seventh and eighth graders.

The junior orchestra has increasingly grown in size until it now numbers 80 budding musicians. Mr. Paul Heltne is director of the organization. Also assisting him with instruction of string music are Miss Jean Miller and Mr. Harold Sundet. Mr. Sundet instructs the elementary and intermediate orchestral groups, which are comparable to beginners' and intermediate bands.

Sectionals are offered to the students where they may practice with one of the string instructors.

Junior orchestra, like all the other elementary music groups, provides the basic training in playing stringed instruments for further enjoyment in the senior orchestra.

Officers of the junior high orchestra are Karen Kohlwes, president; Judy Aandahl, vice president; and Sue Plager, secretary.

Marching Along

Fall found the junior band earnestly marching up and down streets learning to turn, countermarch, flank, and stop to the trill of a whistle; even correct marching techniques were drilled. This was all a step in the preparation of the band members for the intricate formations performed in senior band. Officially, the junior band marches twice a year—Homecoming and Memorial Day.

Membership ranges from 10th and 11th graders playing musical instruments for the first time to 7th graders who were advanced musicians from the elementary bands.

Their first public concert appearance was at an assembly for the grade school, the purpose of which was to teach the elementary students good concert behavior.

The junior band increased so greatly in size that it had to be divided into two groups for practice sessions. The groups together total 116 musicians. Mr. C. V. Sperati and Mr. Jack Tedrow are directors of the bands. Extra instrumental instruction is given by Mr. Eugene Dunlap.

At the winter concert the two junior groups combined and individually played several selections; "Anchors Aweigh" and "God of Our Fathers" were two of these.

In April the junior band and the senior band presented the spring concert.

Voices Blend

The mixed chorus in the fall concert sang "White Evening" written by Margaret Shelley, elementary music instructor, who conducted the number herself. This was a premiere performance of Miss Shelley's composition.

Newly formed this year, the ninth grade chorus, composed of 77 girls and directed by Mrs. Dorothy Viker, has participated in the annual winter concert and the Christmas festival.

Christmas Harmony

With a backdrop of a Madonna and Child, the music department presented the annual Christmas festival. The Madonna and Child, made of paper mache, represented over a month's labor by many students; on each side of the figures were two huge bronze doors also made of paper mache.

The Christmas production included a processional of the mixed chorus singing "Adeste Fidelis," a narration of the birth of Christ by Don Christianson, and the singing of familiar Christmas carols.

Both choruses, the Triple Trio, a selected string orchestra, and a junior college music group participated in the event.

A grand finale by the entire cast included three numbers from Handel's "Messiah"; the program was brought to a close with the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Increasingly popular are two new sextets, the Melody Maids and the Five Mile Corner Ten Minus Four Boys.

New Music Groups

In addition to the beginners' band, this year an intermediate band was organized. Both have the purpose of training its members for the more advanced bands. A group of 50 students are taking advantage of this program.

Although they do no marching or performing in public, they are a vital link in the training of promising musicians the fundamentals of music. In charge of intermediate band is Jack Tedrow; C. V. Sperati directs beginners' band.

Chosen Group

The Student Council is made up of members chosen from all home-room presidents. The officers are elected in the spring prior to the year they serve.

This year members had charge of keeping the noon-hour program operating smoothly.

All members spent a day in Winona where they attended the Big Nine Student Council Convention. Student Council president Dale Bartley and Colleen Painter represented Austin at the State Student Council Convention held this year in St. Louis Park.

SFC Cabinet Plans

The Senior Friendship Club is a social and service club composed of girls in the senior high school. Because its membership is so large, the girls' cabinet, consisting of the four officers and three girls from each of the grades, governs its action.

An all school event sponsored by the club is W.P.A. Week (translated, this means Women Pay All). For three days the boys are escorted to movies, sleighrides, and the traditional W.P.A. mixer. The girls must pay the bills, open doors, carry their male class-mates' books, and perform similar acts of service. A new feature was added this year. The "King of Hearts," Frank Bucklin, was elected to reign over the festivities. He was crowned at the mixer and honored by a boys' quartette which sang "King of Our Hearts" to the tune of a popular song.

SFC Mixes at Dance

To help the members of Senior Friend-ship Club get acquainted, the first meeting featured social dancing and singing under the direction of Miss Margaret Shelley. The girls learned many folk dances and circle games.

A noted Austin beauty operator visited one meeting to give the members many help-ful suggestions as to hair styling and care, make-up, and general good grooming. To demonstrate the proper setting and styling of hair, he put the finishing touches on Willa Christianson's hair-do, which he had cut and set previously. Following the meeting the members had many questions to ask con-cerning the proper shade of lipstick for a certain color hair and popular hair styles.

Tea Honors Mothers

One of the biggest events of the year for the Friendship Club was the Mother-Daughter Tea. The program began in the auditorium with the Thespians' presentation of "Rough House;" following the program was a tea in the cafeteria. Junior and senior girls, their mothers, and senior high teachers were served by the sophomore girls.

To follow through with its theme of service, the Friendship Club made the Christmas season happier for the handicapped children in Austin. A few of the senior girls donned a rabbit suit, a squirrel outfit, and invited Santa Claus to share in a skit entitled "Plutolph the Rabbit." The children were sent cards and many members visited them. Toys and games were bought by the club to expand the children's lending library, from which they can borrow games as we would a book.

In the spring the earliest and the latest fashions were presented at the annual style show. Girls contrasted new and old-fashioned clothes for every occasion. Musical talent was mixed with the fashions to produce a very delightful result.

We Inform You

A person entering room 240 sixth hour may see some of the work involved in completing an Austinian. The drawing of layouts, the writing of copy and heads, and the cutting of pictures are only a few of the procedures which take place in the course of a year in preparation for that day when the Austinians are distributed.

School activities, sports, and many other items of interest to Austin students were very capably covered by the newly revised

Sentinel staff. The editing of the paper was in the hands of fifteen able seniors instead of the journalism class as it had been in times past.

Looking ahead to the future one sees enlarged and more complete facilities for both staffs.

A Christmas party for members of the Austinian and Sentinel Staffs was held at the home of Jim Todd, the Sentinel editor.

Leaders Get Awards

The honor of belonging to the National Honor Society is given to fifteen per cent of the senior class. Awards are based on qualifications such as character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Those of the senior class chosen for this honor were inducted into the Society at an assembly program March 11. Rev. Wendell Pew talked to the student body and parents of the Honor Society members on "It's Not Enough To Pass." Following the assembly program, a reception was served to the newly-inducted members, their parents, and the senior teachers by the Senior Friendship Club.

The Quill and Scroll is an honor society for high school journalists. Outstanding participants in the journalism activities, Sentinel and Austinian, were initiated and given their pins at an informal ceremony conducted by the senior members of last year. Members are chosen annually from the junior and senior classes by the advisors and editors of these activities for their journalistic ability and contribution.

Congratulations

Mrs. Ray Wescott, Leonard Addington, Mr. and Mrs. Steinblock, Clarence Steinblock.

El Circulo Espanol

To get a brief idea of a few Spanish customs, one needs only to attend a Spanish Club meeting. Meetings are held regularly each month throughout the year.

A chili party was held in the fall in which new members were initiated into the club. Other meetings featured such programs as a talent show, a tango party and a Christmas party. At the Christmas party Spanish Christmas carols were sung. All of this has led to a very enjoyable life for the senors and senioritas during the year.

They carried on a very worthwhile project this year as CARE packages were sent to the needy in Germany. Evelyn Galbraith is the advisor.

Rome Lives Again

The Latin Club is patterned after the society of ancient Rome, with slaves, citizens and senators. Activities of the club are copied from the festivals and events of Rome, such as the slave auction, where first year Latin students are sold for from ten cents to four dollars; the Saturnalia, during which the slaves are free to do as they please and a slave king is chosen; and the Roman wedding, where a bride and groom are married after the fashion of the ancient Romans. The initiation into the club is taken from the stories of the trials of the dead in Hades. Roman government is copied very closely. Jim Todd once decided that he wanted complete power for himself, so he overthrew the government with a few of his close advisors.

Scientific Twist

The scientific 'masterminds' of Austin High School are banded together in the Junior Academy of Science. Each member is required to complete a project which pertains to the field of science. Meetings are held each month under the advisorship of Mr. Goudy.

Junior high students who desire to learn more science than is normally taught in class are members of the Junior High Science Club. The regular monthly meetings are advised by Mr. Gordon Lonning.

The primary objective of the Camera Club is to familiarize members with the basic steps of photography. Members learn how to take good pictures and develop them. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Fogdall have charge of meetings.

Homemakers of Tomorrow

'Better Homes for America's Future' was the theme of the F.H.A. this year. Girls learn to cook, sew and manage a home to live up to this motto.

Several members traveled to Winona where they attended the district F.H.A. meeting. Later in the year delegates journeyed to the Hotel Radisson in Minneapolis for the State Convention. Three members modeled clothes in a local style show.

A $100 scholarship is given to a senior girl who has received higher than average grades and who is planning to enroll in home economics in college.

Sewing projects kept the girls busy this year. Those who have completed their projects and had shown outstanding achievement were awarded the Junior Homemaker Degree.

Members Keep Busy

The Austin chapter is the largest F.F.A. chapter in the state. They have participated in several team contests which deal with crops, livestock and products on local, district and state levels. The members have been well represented in livestock shows at nearby county fairs as well as the State Fair and the Midwest Barrow Show.

A five steer feeding program was initiated this year. It is primarily to teach through experience how to efficiently put gains on steers as well as to develop quality.

A farm shop has been added to the 'ag' facilities this year to allow for a more thorough training for the farmers of tomorrow.

As one enters the 'ag' room it is evident that farming is becoming more scientific every day. A butterfat tester, a seed germinator, a moisture tester, and a soils testing kit are available for use by students.

Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The F.F.A. celebrated its 25th anniversary this year. The National Convention held in Kansas City, which was attended by six members of our chapter in October, featured such noted speakers as President Eisenhower and two members of his cabinet, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson and Secretary of Health, Welfare, and Education Oveta Culp Hobby.

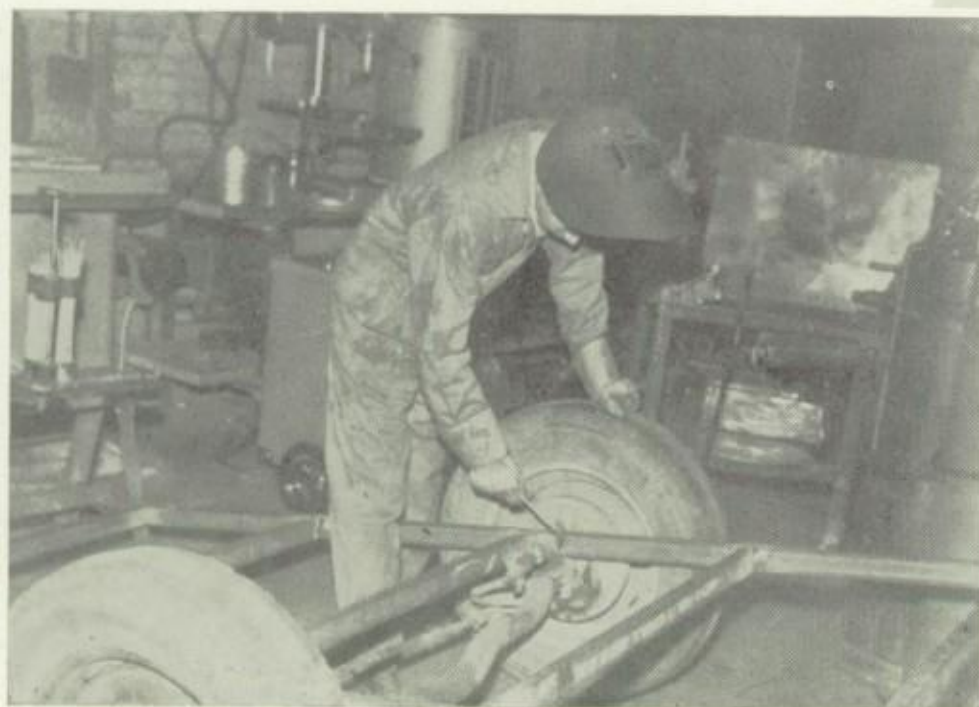

Mason Mace Jr. received an American Farmer degree for his outstanding farming program. Dale Nietzel was Austin's contribution to the National Chorus.

All past members who had received State and American Farmer degrees were honored at the annual banquet.

Advisers are Mr. D. D. Ritland, Mr. L. M. Arneson, and Mr. J. H. Dice.

Girls' Sports Reign

Girls' athletics are thoroughly covered by the G.A.A. every Thursday afternoon for grades nine through twelve and Monday afternoons for grades seven and eight. The various activities occur in both new and old gyms, the swimming pool, and the athletic field.

The major winter sports include basketball, volley ball, swimming, and tumbling. The senior high girls competed in an intramural basketball tournament which proved quite popular. Four teams became quite expert during the competition. Swimming in G.A.A. supplemented the too brief hours in the pool during gym classes.

As the days got warmer in the spring, many delightful afternoons were spent by the members at the athletic field playing softball, tennis, and badminton.

Homecoming Planned

One of the major all-school activities sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association is the Homecoming festivities. The club divides into committees such as ones in charge of the snake-dance, coronation, the float, and the skit. This memorable annual event, planned almost entirely by the members, is a credit to our school. Miss Dorothy Hoos has general supervision over all the club's activities.

The favorite game of the seventh and eighth grade G.A.A. is trench. The object of the game is to throw a volleyball and touch one of your opponents at the other end of the gym. Mrs. Joyce Kezar has charge of these junior high sessions.

A popular sport that can be played outside of school is bowling. Many teams were formed which bowled every Wednesday afternoon and later competed for both individual and team championships.

Girls' sports are a welcome addition to our school's extra-curricular activities. Though they are not as strongly emphasized as boys' sports, they nevertheless play a very important part in the lives of the feminine half of our school population.

Mr. Christgau's helpers

Shirley Davis, Marlys Asper, Dorothy Radford and Roberta Olson are busy at their jobs of helping handle the office work for Mr. Christgau. By donating their study periods to this job, these girls gain useful experience running a business office plus rendering helpful service.

Music room girls

Marlene Prihoda, Pat Hallman, Donna Sheetz and Carol Earl.

Nurses' assistants

The girls who work in the nurses office have a variety of jobs. Here Lila Thrasher, Barbara Runge and Joyce Flatten file reports which are being checked by Sharon Roush and Norma Nielsen. Besides doing office work, these girls also assist the nurse with her patients.

Groups Serve All

Several students lend their services one hour daily assisting in various offices.

Each hour girls are dispatched from Mr. Darling's office and Mr. Warren's office to collect attendance slips, the cafeteria count, and to deliver detention notices.

The boys who work in Mr. Fogdall's office have charge of the delivery of the audio-visual materials to the proper rooms at the proper time.

Girls who are unusually interested in nursing assist the nurse in keeping records and in other office duties.

Answering the phone and looking for custodians when needed are duties of Mr. Christgau's office staff.

Under Mr. Heltne's supervision, the girls in the music department keep busy sorting and filing music, typing orders, and checking chorus gowns.

AHS Volunteers

If you are the kind of person that would lose his head if it were not fastened on, you probably spend much of your time at the Lost and Found desk on second floor. Here one can find anything from an old rubber boot to a ninth grade civics book. The girls stationed at the desk every hour and after school help to find lost articles and turn them over to the owners.

Promoting citizenship in the halls we find the hall patrol. They guard the doors before school starts each morning and are stationed at one-way halls and on stairways to prevent congestion between classes.

The noon-hour program that was put into effect in 1953 employs many student helpers in the cafeteria, the kitchen, and at the doors to admit those students lucky enough to possess noon-hour passes.

Hours Spent Wisely

In the hectic hours of themes, special reports, and book reviews, a path is worn to the library. In this room is housed a wealth of books, magazines, newspapers, and pamphlets. The librarians and student assistants are always willing to assist the confused students in finding various information.

Many of the student's free hours, if they have them, are spent filling a chair in one of the three study halls. Faculty and student advisers supervise conduct.

Know Your Government

The Hi-Y is an organization made up of boys in the senior high school who are divided into three chapters according to classes. Meetings are held bi-monthly at which members take part in recreation as well as regular business. Ralph Schloming is the adviser.

In April five delegates attended a Hi-Y Youth in Government at the state capitol in St. Paul. A mock government was set up in which actual proceedings followed that of our State Legislature. Delegates were Gary Goeble, Roland Thompson, Bob Oliphant, Marno McDermott, and Lowell Williams. Also to learn more of government, several members traveled to Washington, D.C. and New York on a Know Your Government Seminar.

A Y-Teens was organized this year for girls of the senior high school. They held a tea for the foreign students who visited our school. Five Egyptian students spoke at the annual Fire of Friendship which was attended by members of both Hi-Y and Y-Teens. Panels on boy-girl relationships were presented by these organizations.

New Club Organized

The F.T.A. is the youngest club of the school and promises to become one of the best. The purposes of the F.T.A. are to acquaint the future teacher with the profession and to influence the best students into this career. The group has conducted tours through various Austin schools where they could confer with teachers of various grade levels to receive first hand information regarding duties and problems of a teacher. Mr. Faulkner and Miss Torrey are advisers.

The neatly dressed boys of the ushers club are a familiar sight during the school year. They have charge of ushering at such school events as music concerts, plays, and basketball games as well as the Civic Music Concerts.

The King of Hearts

The dancing stopped, the crowd hushed, and a fan-fare blared. The crowd cheered when the King was named. He was crowned and the voices of a boys' quartette rang in his ears. The scene was the cafeteria during the annual W.P.A. mixer; the King of Hearts was Frank Bucklin, a popular blond-haired senior. He had been elected by a vote of the senior high girls a few days previously. Sharon Marquardt, President of S.F.C., which sponsored the event, crowned Frank.

Romans hear wedding bells

Every year the Latin Club arranges for a bride and groom to participate in a Roman wedding complete with costumes, wedding party, and guests. Joanne Cullen and Steve Gentle donned Roman wedding dress and were joined ceremoniously, though very unofficially. Included in the festivities was a procession from the bride's home, where the wedding took place, to the home of the groom.

Full speed ahead

Four members of the Future Teachers of America made a visit to Neveln School where they spent a few happy moments being small children again. Arlen Viste, Dorothy Brown, and Adalia Beeman are passengers on the Super Chief, engineered by Kay Weseman. The real purpose of their visit was to learn more about teaching from actual experience.

Hass Takes Over

Stopped dead

Dale Dahl

After Red Hastings' official resignation, it was announced that Arthur P. Hass, former coach of Decorah, Iowa, would take over as head coach of the Austin High School football team.

During his seven years service at Decorah, his teams won 45, lost 11 and tied two. Decorah is a member of the strong Northeast Iowa Conference, comprised of Cedar Falls, Charles City, Waverly, Oelwein, Cresco, New Hampton and Osage.

Another new member of the coaching staff this year was James Graven, who came to Austin from Lake Mills, Iowa. This year Jim took over the duties of line coach and Hal Cuff took care of the backfield.

After dropping the first two games, they came on to win five out of the remaining seven to end the season with an overall record of 5 wins and 4 losses. Rochester took first in the Big Nine with 7 wins and 1 tie; Winona second with 7 wins and 1 loss; while Austin was tied with Owatonna for fourth place with five wins and three losses.

Roger Stoike, the hard working fullback, was the leading scorer for the Austin team in the '53 season with 42 points. Pat Maloney was the next leading scorer with 36 points. Frank Luksik was third high for the Packers.

Winona triumphs 16-0

In the first game of the season the Packers met an experienced and alert Winona team. Lead by Dick Brown and Phil Conway, the Winhawks made a strong showing. Austin had some good gains from the running of Frank Luksik, Roger Stoike, and Pat Maloney.

Roosevelt victorious 19-13

Austin suffered their second defeat in as many games as they dropped a close decision to the offensive minded Roosevelt team. The Packers spotted Roosevelt a 13-0 lead but came charging back in the second half to make a game of it. Roger Stoike and Frank Luksik stood out in the backfield, while Jim Todd and Dick Thatcher played a steady game in the line.

Red Wing trounced 18-7

Austin smashed into the Big Nine conference race with a decisive trouncing of defending champion Red Wing. Sharp blocking, hard running, and good defensive play were the main factors in the victory. Roger Stoike raced 52 and 85 yards for touchdowns in one of his best games of the season.

Owatonna upsets 12-0

The Owatonna Indians put a damper on Austin's Homecoming as they subdued the Packers 12-0. The Packers' offense couldn't pierce the Indians' line with any consistency, and the matter wasn't eased when, in the second quarter, Frank Luksik was injured and taken out for the duration of the game.

Ron Dietrich and Jerry Wenger scored the two touchdowns for the Indians.

Mankato smashed 47-20

Austin turned in one of their finest offensive shows of the season by trouncing Mankato 47-20. Roger Stoike led the touchdown parade as he scored three times. Jerry Kittleson scored twice and Frank Luksik scored once on a 66 yard run, besides kicking five extra points. Most of the Katos' success came through the air as the stout Austin line played brilliantly.

Faribault derailed 20-0

Led by the running of Pat Maloney, the Austin Scarlets romped over Faribault 20-0. Striking with lightning speed the Packers scored twice within 52 seconds in the first half. Maloney crossed the Raiders' goal line three times to clinch the contest. In this game the Packers showed considerable improvement as compared to the beginning of the season.

Rochester derails 19-7

After taking three straight games the league leading Rockets proved too much for the Austin Packers as they rolled out a 19-7 victory. Rochester, ranked fourth in the state, chalked up their sixth win against only one tie. Dave Doty, fullback for the Rockets, proved to be the effective man.

Northfield stumbles 14-0

In the eighth game of the season Austin evened up their record of three wins and four losses as they subdued Northfield 14-0. Crisp blocking and hard tackling gave the Scarlets their two touchdowns, while the stout line held the Raiders scoreless. It was the second game of the season in which the opponents were held scoreless.

Albert Lea falls 21-19

Austin closed its 1953 season with a victory over its arch rival, Albert Lea, 21-19. At the end of the first half Austin held a 21-0 lead, but Albert Lea, although in the cellar, came back in the second half to give the Austin team something to worry about.

Successful Season

Head coach, Art Hass, assisted by twenty-six lettermen finished his first season at Austin High School with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. The seniors who earned the varsity "A" in football this year are—Don Barnett, end; Dale Dahl, end; Jim Todd, tackle; Bob Albright, guard; Dave Mathews, guard; Richard Thatcher, center; Bruce Burton, center; Dean Shankland, quarterback; Frank Luksik, quarterback; Pat Maloney, halfback; Jerry Kittleson, halfback; Lewis Lenz, fullback; and managers, Dale Bartley and Rolly Thompson.

The lettermen that will be back next year include O'Dis Halvorson, John Lightly, Sidney Baldwin, Larry Arnold, Gary Lunde, Ross Eckert, Terry Meyer, Dick Plath, Tom Holgate, Bob Mathias and manager Paul Schroeder.

With these lettermen and some promising men coming up from the B-Squad, Coach Art Hass hopes to build another strong team next year.

B's Find It Rough

The Austin High School Sophs finished their season with five losses against one tie and one win. However, the Bees showed steady improvement as the season progressed, and finished the season with their lone victory over the Faribault Junior Falcons 7-6.

In the first six games the Sophs found it hard sledding as Dick Lang was the only consistent Austin threat all season. He made eight of the nine touchdowns the team got for the entire season.

Fans Optimistic

As the basketball season started four lettermen were back from last year—John Lightly, Jerry Olson, Gary Morem, and Frank Luksik, all of whom were members of last year's State Tournament Ten. O'Dis Halvorsen, Tony Maus, Gordie Anderson, Terry Meyer, and Dave Ploof also showed up, back from last year's B-squad.

In the first game of the season the Scarlets got off to a good start with a 69-59 win over Minneapolis South. The contest wasn't decided until the final three minutes when South ran out of gas after setting a greuling pace for three and a half quarters. Austin showed a well-balanced scoring attack as four of the five starting men hit double figures. John Lightly led the team with 17 points and Jerry Olson was next with 16.

In the North game Austin had an unusually cold night from the floor. The Scarlets made only 25 per cent of their shots and missed around 20 free throws. North dominated the rebounds in the first half, but the score was tied 24-24 at the end of the half. As the second half progressed, the Polars pulled away to finish the game with a six point spread. Gary Morem led the Austin scoring with 17 points.

Rochester was next to fall before an improved Scarlet quint 71-56. Austin had too much height and scoring ability for the Rockets to cope with. Probably the biggest reason for the improvement shown by Austin was the skill demonstrated by Hugh Hall, the transfer student from Elkhardt, Indiana. He not only led the team in scoring with 19 points, but he also played a sparkling floor game.

The Scarlets picked up their second conference victory of the season by rolling over our ancient rival, Albert Lea, 74-52. Jerry Olson led the Scarlet scoring with 22 points, followed by Hugh Hall, who tallied 21 and Frank Luksik with 13. Luksik also did a fine job on defense in holding Jack Woodside to four points.

The team hardly had a workout as they defeated St. Paul Humboldt 61-41. The Packers stopped Humboldt cold in the first quarter, as they tallied only 3 points, and only 12 for the half. Hugh Hall picked up 19 points for Austin.

Experience Speaks

The Scarlets traveled to Edina and scored a decisive victory 55-36. The Hornets couldn't muster a man over 5' 11", which proved disastrous to their cause. Jerry Olson was high in scoring with 14 points, followed by John Lightly and Gary Morem, who each had ten.

The team picked up steam for Winona and won going away 84-58 for the highest point total of the year. Hugh Hall was high with 24 points, followed by Jerry Olson who tallied 22.

The Packers kept on the winning streak by defeating Mankato 66-50. The game was much too close for comfort, as the Packers led only 16-13 at the first quarter and 29-29 at intermission. Jerry Olson led Scarlet scoring with 23 points.

Gary Morem's 19 points set the pace for the Scarlets, as they outscored Owatonna 67-45. Owatonna was in hopes of gaining its first victory over a Packer five since 1941. The Indians trailed by only three points at the half, but in the third quarter the Scarlets broke away.

Regular Season Ends

The upset-minded Faribault Falcons lacked the shooting and rebounding ability to test the Scarlets too much, as Austin grabbed an early lead which held all the way and enabled the Scarlets to win 64-43.

Austin was hard pressed to defeat a determined Albert Lea quint 63-58. Frank Luksik did a fine floor job as he held Jack Woodside to two points for three quarters. Jerry Olson played one of his best games of the season as he hit for 31 points. Albert Lea lost only three games all season, all to Austin.

In their second meeting of the season Austin again proved to be too much for the powerful Rochester team as they came out on top 64-41.

Northfield fell 75-40 before a very impressive Austin team. The Scarlets played one of their best games of the season. They were hitting from all over the court and almost completely dominated the boards.

To close out their regular season the Packers scored two more decisive victories over Red Wing 62-56 and Carleton freshmen 80-55.

Cop Region I Title

In the first game of District Two play the Austin basketball team defeated Albert Lea 72-63. It was Austin's superior height which decided the struggle and some determined rebounding by Jerry Olson, Hugh Hall, O'Dis Halverson and Gary Morem controlled the boards. At the end of the first quarter Austin led 16-15 and it was a 32-32 deadlock at intermission. Then the Packers pulled ahead as they unloaded 25 points in the torrid third period. Hall led in scoring with 21 points.

The Austin Scarlets proved to be too much for scrappy LeRoy as they were beaten 77-41 for the District title.

Austin kept on their winning streak as they overpowered Owatonna 76-56 in Region One play. The Packers jumped to an early lead and held it throughout the game. Coming off the bench John Lightly whipped in 12 big markers. Frank Luksik continued his tremendous play by scoring 16 points, the high for the Packers.

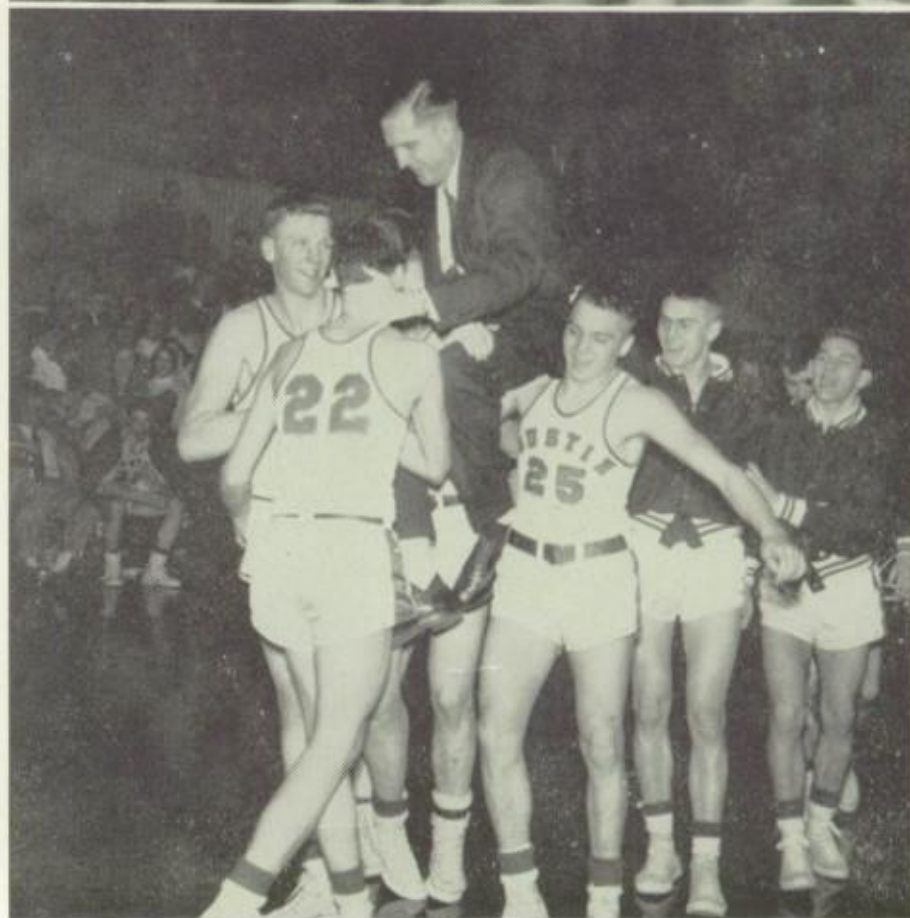

Rochester proved a little tougher as they folded 56-42 under the Austin team. Olson made 18 points and Luksik followed with 12 as Austin again copped the Regional title.

State Tourney Again

For the seventh time in 15 years, a Ber-ven-coached basketball team entered state tournament play. On entering the first game of the tournament, Austin had a record of 17 wins and one loss. Willmar, with 23 straight wins, was beaten by Austin 43-40 in the first round. The Scarlets got off to a good start and led 14-6 at the end of the first period. At intermission they were ahead by nine points, but Willmar came back in the third period to make a game of it. Morem was high point man for Austin with 14 points.

In the second game a tough Brainerd team defeated Austin 57-56. It was a very close game all the way with Brainerd leading by four points at the end of the first quarter and by only one point at half-time. Olson hit for 18 while Luksik dumped in 13 points.

Austin, in the final game of the season, took third place in the state by overpowering Renville 69-43. The game was close until the third period when the Packers pulled away. Olson again took the spotlight as he lead with 19 points.

B's Finish Strong

The Austin Sophs, coached by veteran Blair Hainer, finished their 1953-54 campaign with a record of eight wins and five losses. They got on the right track by taking their first two games, both close ones, from LeRoy and Adams. In the next three games the Sophs lost to Rochester, Albert Lea, and Lyle. They showed considerable improvement in winning the next five games against Winona, Mankato, Owatonna, Fairbault, and Albert Lea. In the final three games the B-squaders lost to Rochester, beat Northfield, and dropped a close one to Red Wing.

Season standouts were Bob Mathias, Bill Dunlap, Gary Tate, Dave Ryks, Tom Golden, Larry Bearson, and Jon Webber. Duane Fellows, Lair DeSart, Lee Wilcox, Wayne McClary, and Wayne Gaughran also received letters for their contributions to the B-squad.

Eighth in State

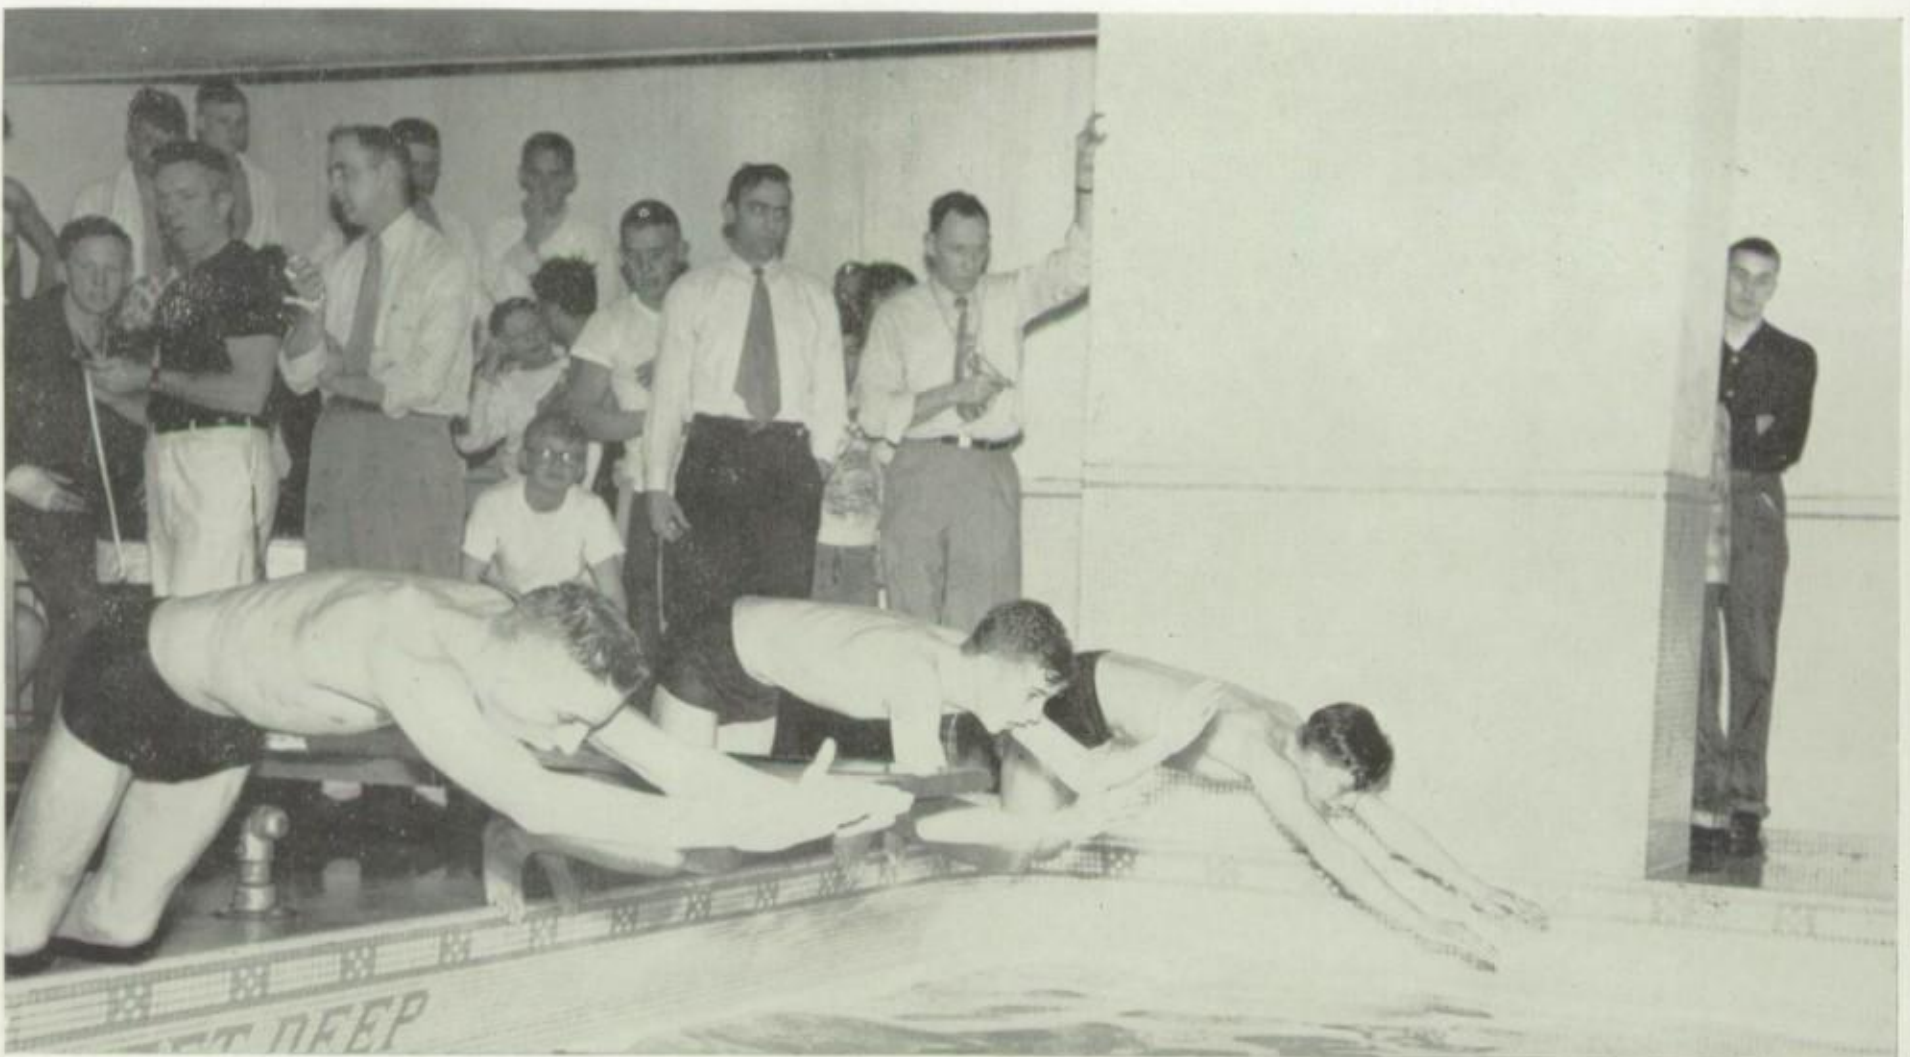

The Austin swimming team, coached by Vern Ojanpa, finished the season by scoring six points, thus finishing eighth in the state meet at Minneapolis.

Dick Thatcher placed fifth in the 100 yard breaststroke; and the 200 yard relay team, which included Rick Plath, Pat Maloney, Roger Stoike, and Thatcher also placed fifth. As predicted, the Rochester team far outdistanced the rest of the contenders by scoring 65 points.

Austin's team is to be praised as some say this state meet was the best in history. All the competitors were outstanding and competition was very tough.

The frogmen finished the season with a 5-3 record as they were victorious over Winona, Minneapolis Southwest, St. Thomas, and twice over Shattuck of Faribault; while losing meets to Rochester, the Big Nine Champs, and Winona.

Seven Lettermen Return

Richard Thatcher led the swimming team through the season as the point-getter. Along with Dick, Pat Maloney, Ron Holt, Dean Shankland, Roger Stoike, and Bill Louk will graduate this year. Besides these six seniors, Dick Plath, Allan Anderson, Jim Veverka, Bill LeBarron, Steve Farnsworth, Joe Blowers, Ken MacDonald, and manager Richard Lien received letters for their contributions to the team. Six other boys received numerical awards.

To create interest in the junior high, intramural meets were held and they were quite successful. There were fourteen boys who received certificates for their participation.

Competition Strong

Wrestling competition was unusually strong in the Big Nine this year, and the Austin matmen were held to an unimpressive record of 3 wins, 4 losses and 2 ties.

Although seventy-five boys reported at the start of the year, Wilcox had a big rebuilding job on his hands. Among those reporting only seven were lettermen from last year. These included Cory Shoemaker and Don Barnett, who represented Austin in the state tournament last year, plus Bob Rugg, Glen Bakke, Bob Husemoller, Dale Neitzel and Roswell Ulland.

Even though the season's record was just average, most of the individuals performed very well, but they couldn't seem to get a concerted drive together.

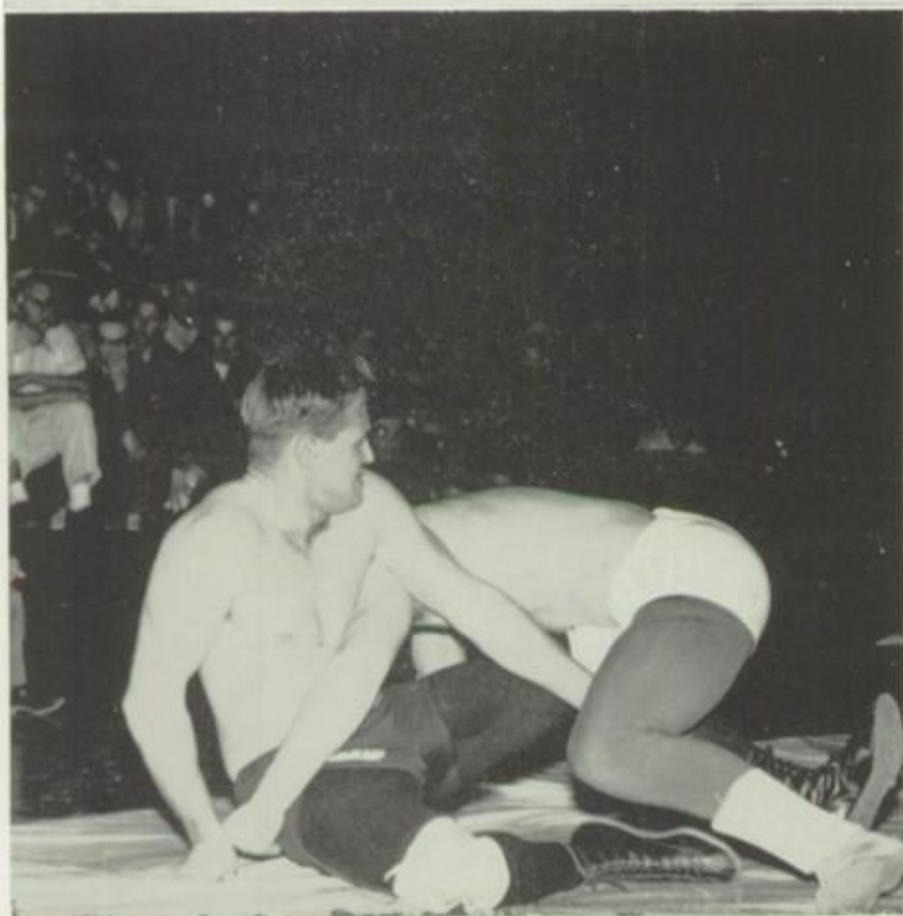

Of the nine meets Austin participated in, six of them were at home.

State Meet

Austin's wrestling team successfully wound up the 1953-54 season by claiming its first individual state champion since 1948 when Bob Hyland, Bill Hardy, and Wiley Freidricks won the 95, 155 and 165 pound classes respectively. This year it was Cory Shoemaker, a 112 pound senior, who walked off with the coveted title in his weight class. Having been a varsity letterman since ninth grade and a consistent winner, Cory hit his peak this year to go through the tournament undefeated.

There were also three other senior boys—Glenn Bakke, Roswell, Ulland, and Don Barnett—who reached the state meet and helped Austin win fifth place. Besides these, there were thirteen other boys who won A-squad letters. They included Charles Dockham, Ronald Shoemaker, Dave Wangen, Roger Bell, Jim Greene, Bob Husemoller, Merrill Meier, Dave Naatz, Bob Hoff, Don Chapek, Melvin Maricle, Orie Hackbarth, and Everett Richards. Out of this group seven will return. From these plus some good help from the B-squad, Coach Sky Wilcox plans to mold next year's team.

Second in State

The Austin Scarlet baseball team coached by Dick Seltz finished another successful season by winning fifteen out of eighteen games in '53. Inclement weather in the early part of the season didn't bother the Scarlets as they won their first four games before losing to Mankato. The Seltzers finished the regular season with eight wins and two defeats, and went on to win the district and regional titles in five games. The Packers licked Granite Falls and Eveleth in the first games of the state tourney, but for the second year in a row, lost in the finals to St. Paul Washington.

Of the sixteen boys on the '53 team nine will be returning. Frank Luksik, Jerry Hatch, and Larry Arnold, .300 hitters last year, will carry much of the load. Gary Underhill, who posted a 10-2 record while striking out 121 men, still has two seasons left. The Scarlets should definitely make another good showing this year.

Prospects Brighter

Bigger and better track at Austin High School was the aim of Coach John Saari for the 1954 campaign.

Saari, starting his second season as head track coach, was confident the outlook was brighter than last year when the Packer thinclads placed second with 64½ points in the District Two meet, scored 10½ points in the Region One test, and placed ninth with 11½ points in the annual Big Nine conference test.

"We have a long way to go and it means a lot of hard work," Saari said, "but if the boys are willing to go all out we have a chance to better last year's record."

Saari had plenty of help this season with Art Hass and Leighton Rickert as assistants. Hass, who is head football coach, has had plenty of experience as he handled the track squad at Decorah, Iowa. Rickert assisted Saari last year.

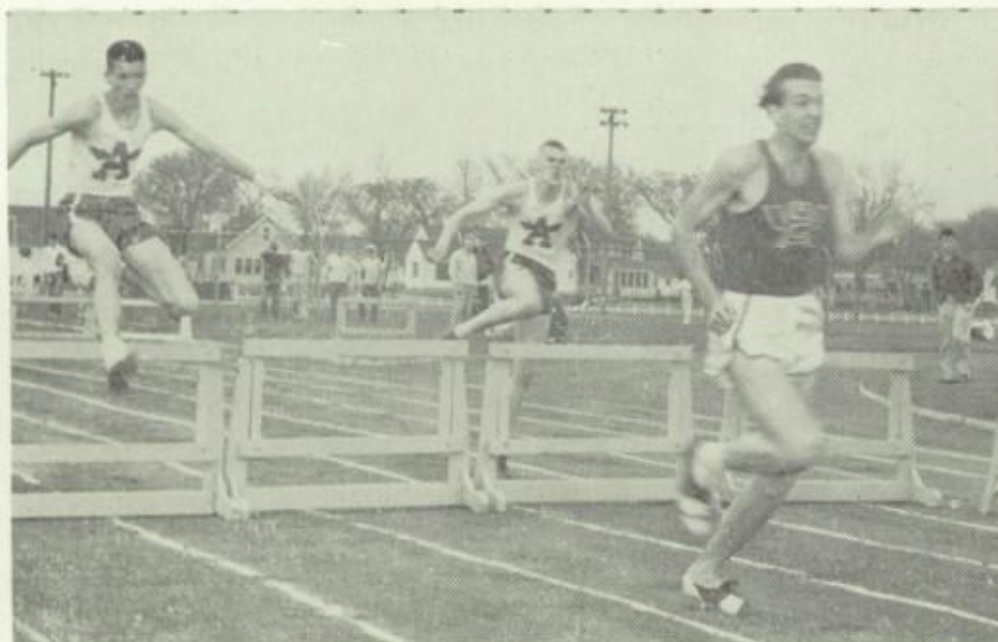

All candidates were given every chance to make the team and in most events the competition was wide open.

Each contestant was limited to two events, track or field, in addition to a relay.

Another Tough Season

At the start of track practice this year 80 candidates, including seven lettermen, reported for duty. The workouts were held in the gym until warmer weather prevailed.

Lettermen on hand included Jim Todd, shot and discus; Jim Bumgartner, mile; Roger Lillquist, mile; Pat Maloney, pole vault and sprints; Jerry Kittleson, 440 and sprints; Roger Stoike, high jump and Dale Dahl, hurdles and half mile.

In an effort to build up track, three B-team meets were arranged with Albert Lea, Rochester, and Owatonna. In addition, several junior high track meets were held for the boys in the 7th and 8th grades. The winners of these meets were awarded ribbons. This gave more boys a chance to participate against outside competition.

The first meet was at the annual Mankato Indian Relays, April 29. The Packers also competed in the Carleton Invitational at Northfield, the Faribault Relays and dual meets against Albert Lea, Rochester, and Owatonna before the District Two meet, which was held at Albert Lea, May 21.

Par Busters

Out of the 44 boys who reported for golf in '53, Coach Walt Lembcke forged another fine team. Bob Nelson and captain LaRue Johnson paced the team to three wins in six meets and third place in the conference. Once again the linkers lost out to Albert Lea in the district, after beating them during the regular season. Owatonna and Northfield also fell to the Scarlet golfers. Season stand-outs other than Nelson and Johnson were Dave Johnson and Don Christianson.

Austin High should field another top-notch foursome this year, even though the loss of aces like Johnson and Nelson does present a problem. The list of notable returnees from last year's squad including Christianson, Johnson, Rick Arney, and John Schiltz and "B" squaders Jon Weber and Jim Lembcke definitely is encouraging.

Athletics Expand

Another sport has been added to Austin's already large athletic department as last year marked the first time in recent years that an Austin tennis team played a full Big Nine schedule. Although the netmen's initial record wasn't too impressive, they did succeed in sending a doubles team, consisting of Don Miller and Ron Hagelund, to the finals of the regional tournament where they were beaten in a close match by an experienced Rochester duo.

Coach Bill Lewis fielded a stronger team this year as he had five returning lettermen including Hagelund, Gary Eppen, Roger Knutson, Bob Husemoller and Harold Silbaugh, plus some promising candidates in the lower grades. He especially eyed a victory over a strong Rochester team with whom intense rivalry has begun to form.

10th Gym Class

Girls Enjoy GAA

Swimming, basketball, volleyball and tumbling occupied Thursday afternoons from 3:15 to 4:10 for many of Austin High's female athletes. During this brief hour GAA reigned supreme in both gyms and the swimming pool.

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy Hoos, the Senior GAA, which is open to girls in grades 9-12, slaved to produce another unforgettable Homecoming.

Active games of trench were played frequently by the seventh grade GAA. Their adviser, Mrs. Joyce Kezar, also supervised other activities during the Monday afternoon sessions.

Basketball, the most popular of the winter sports, featured a tournament with four teams competing for the championship.

GAA also included after school bowling at the Austin Bowl every Wednesday from October through March. Four teams competed in tournaments during the year. Early contest winners were Doris Mangnuson, Janice Plager, Marian Krupicka and Lorraine Grothe.

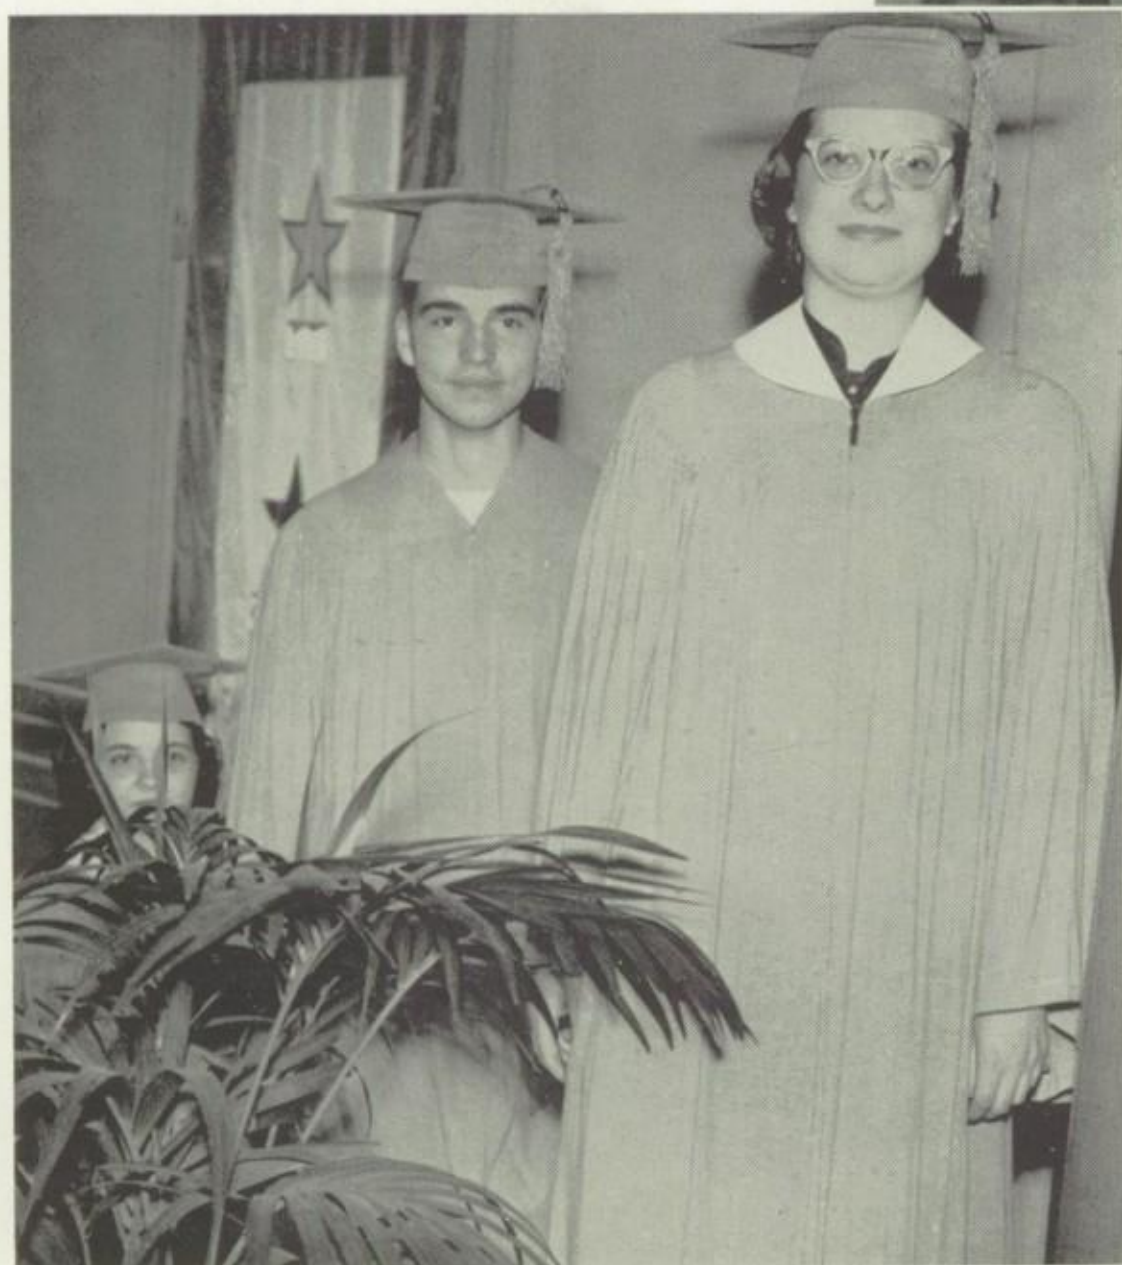

During the warmer weather of early fall and late spring, GAA moved to the athletic field where the "athletes" could be seen swinging bats or tennis racquets.

Seniors

Graduation brings many mingled emotions on the part of the graduates; some are glad to be away from the rules and regulations of school, while others look back and see places where they could have worked harder and done a better job. Many, however, look forward to a college or a job of their choice. These people have spent much time looking over guidance material or college bulletins trying to decide which college or line of work will best satisfy them in the years for which they have prepared during their high school days. During their senior year students come to realize that their future is what they make it.

Who'll Be King...

. . . was the question of the day during W.P.A. week. Since the votes were not counted until the day of the coronation, there was no chance for the secret to be disclosed. Thus an air of suspense prevailed at the mixer until the president of the Friendship Club announced the King. Here Sandra LeBarron, Nancy Erickson, and Dick Thatcher anxiously await the crowning.

Officers Relax

Enjoying a warm day and the school paper are the junior class officers. It is a rare occasion to see them sitting idle, however, for among their various duties are choosing the class rings and planning the junior-senior prom. This year's president is Dave Ploof, vice president Gary Underhill, secretary Velta Bumbiers, and treasurer O'dis Halverson.

Serenade

In the spring of the year, AHS students' thoughts turn to picnics, parties, and fun. Many of these parties are climaxed with singing. Like Arthur Godfrey, someone strums a uke while the others get in their chorus of "Dry Bones." Practicing his uke is Roger Knutson while Arletta Torkelson and Sonja Hynie seem to be enjoying his music.

"Tea Is Served"

"What if I should spill the punch or drop the cookies!" These are just a few of the murmurs heard from these sophomore girls who served the refreshments at the annual Mother and Daughter Tea. Making a last minute check of the table are Deanna Bren-nand, Nancy Blynn, Sonja Hynie and ElVeda Lund.

Mr. Bones

There may be a skeleton in every closet, but there isn't one in every AHS biology room, so each year biology students look forward to the visit of Mr. Bones. He travels from room to room, teaching the students the structure of the body. At left, Beverly Babcock points out the scapula to Jim Lembecke,

Don't Sit Here

The ninth grade students in Miss Purdham's English classes turned theatrical for a short time. The class was divided into groups of five or six and wrote plays which they presented to their class in the small auditorium. "Invisible" Dale Johnson is shown pushing Suzanne Meister off his lap while Nadine Engle and Karen Matison carry on a conversation.

Handy Helpers

Have you ever wondered who put the black curtains up for a film? Or how the tape recorder got from one end of the building to the other? The men behind the scene who take care of all the visual aids equipment are Mr. Fogdall and his helpers. Shown adjusting the projector are Kenneth Flicek and Charles Fergeson.

Almost Ready?

The school year 1953-54 brought many innovations in student activities. Among these was the Home Management Style Show and Tea. Junior high home economics students volunteered to work behind the scenes and gain experience for their own spring show. Patty Todd and Susan Gower help with last minute preparations for the tea held in the cafeteria.

What's Cookin'

As you walk down the hall, you smell something cooking. You think you must be mistaken, but you're walking past the home ec. room where girls are busily preparing foods. Such work requires the use of utensils and dishes that must be washed and ready for the next class. Cleaning up after a session in the kitchen are Carol Camerer, Kathryn Titus, and Janet Vollmer.

They Point the Way

The success of our school is due, in part, to the friendly and harmonious relationship existing between the administration and the student body. The desire of the administration to provide the best of educational facilities is in evidence throughout our school building. Plans are under way for further improvement within the school. Changes will result in expanded offices for the counselors, a new site for the journalism department, and larger junior and senior high attendance offices. The expansion space will be available because of the vacancy left by the various departments—cosmetology, carpentry, machine shops, merchandising, and music—which will move across the street into the vocational building. New courses to be offered students in the vocational field are auto body rebuilding, auto mechanics, electric appliances, and heating and air conditioning.

In addition to the shifting of classrooms and the adding of new courses, a number of teachers from many sections of the nation have joined the school's faculty. The varied educational backgrounds of these new teachers are beneficial to the Austin High School students.

Board Directs Growth

Very few people realize the important roll the school board plays in the maintenance of the Austin school system.

With the increasing number of school-age children, the school board has undertaken plans to accommodate the increase in enrollment.

This fall two new schools, Banfield and Woodson, and the addition to Neveln school opened their doors to grade school children.

At present negotiations are under way for the site of a new elementary school and junior high school.

With all their varied and widespread problems, the board still maintains an active interest in the student and his class work.

They Give Advice

Students seeking information on program planning, college requirements, or interest preferences are advised by Miss Grinley and Mr. Kirchdoerfer.

The college catalogs in the counselors' offices are available to all students. There are always a number of seniors to be found there planning their future college choice.

In addition to her duties as counselor, Miss Grinley heads the Senior Friendship Club and directs social activities, while Mr. Kirchdoerfer assists the Student Council.

They Provide Contact

Students interested in obtaining part-time jobs contact the coordinators in their particular field of interest. They are Mr. Kannady, distributive education; Mr. Carney, trade and industry; and Miss Yocum, office occupations.

The coordinators not only provide the initial contact with the employer, but also maintain an "on the job" training program for the student. With this experience, the student is better able to make the adjustment from a part-time to a full-time job.

Others Who Aid

The efforts of Mrs. Langeberg, social worker, and Miss Hanson, psychologist, aid students in the development of their personal talents. Here they are discussing a pamphlet on which they collaborated.

Mrs. Langeberg attempts to coordinate the school activities and home life of a student in such a way that he may feel satisfied with himself.

Miss Hanson administers individual psychological tests to students to determine their probable rate of learning.

Next Question?

Our school was host to foreign students for one day. Their day included visiting classrooms, eating in the cafeteria at noon, and participation in panels presented to senior high students. Each panel discussed variant aspects of the life and culture of their countries.

Students were able to form clearer impressions of the prevailing customs of the countries represented in the panels.

Miss Mitchell introduced one of the panels which included Akram Abuzeid, India; Frank John, British Columbia; Guillermo Guzman, Columbia; and Cecil Ramnaraine, British Columbia.

A GOOD BANK FOR

YOUNG PEOPLE

One of the important things to think of NOW is the selection of a good bank for help with your financial matters.

You will always find us sympathetic to the problems of youth. We recognize you as the leaders of tomorrow.
